

Kagiso Motsisi joins Sun City as VIP services manager

Sun City has appointed Kagiso Motsisi as its VIP services manager.

With the help of her team, she aims to grow relationships with top gambling customers and expand the database while abiding by gambling regulations, regulatory requirements, and company standards.

Motsisi has been with Sun International Group for 13 years. She has extensive knowledge of gaming systems and has held various positions in gaming and marketing including promotions, CRM, VIP personal host and most recently direct marketing and loyalty manager.

She holds an internationally recognised diploma in marketing management from IMM and has completed several certified courses with Sun International including management level 3, digital marketing, data analytics and project management. She is currently studying Mandarin at Wits Language School.
