

Facebook and Reuters open free e-learning course for journalists

The Facebook Journalism Project and Reuters have partnered to launch a free e-learning programme, the Reuters Digital Journalism Course. The programme aims to support journalists in nine countries across the Asia Pacific, including Bangladesh, to build a strong foundation in digital reporting and editing.

Journalist from South Africa, Nigeria, Kenya, Thailand, Indonesia, Philippines and India amongst other countries will access the free e-learning programme.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>