This year also sees a return of the much anticipated design trend report brought to you by Dave Nemeth, who is currently in Germany and Milan researching everything retail and design. This year the trend report is titled FutureForge and is a must for anybody in (the) design, retail, marketing or architecture. The fact of the matter is that it is no longer business as usual, so this trend report will be exceptionally insightful to anybody in business today.

On the 3rd of June, Inspire brings you DesignBiz, which is a full-day conference which brings together some of the best design and marketing minds in South Africa. They will share their innovative ideas on how to adapt your business to this age of disruption and ensure that you are on the path to leapfrog the competition. To book your tickets visit <http://furncuture.wix.com/dezignbiz> - don't miss the early bird special ending 21 May.

Taking marketing, public relations, customer engagement, technology & design to business.

Another exciting development this year will be the focus on technology and innovation so we urge businesses across the hospitality, architecture, banking, retail, design, corporate and procurement spectrum to attend the talks, the conference and (register for) the expo.

We remind all visitors to pre-register at www.inspiretradeexpo.co.za - pre-registration is free! If you are not pre-registered, entrance fee into the expo will be R200. Inspire Trade Expo is a strictly business-to-business, trade-only event. See you there!
