CSD Student Awards 2007 open for entry

The Chartered Society of Designers Awards 2007 is open for entries from second to fourth year full-time design students worldwide. Submissions will be accepted from the following design disciplines: exhibition, fashion, graphic, interactive media, interior, product and textiles. All projects must be accompanied by a written report. Students stand to win £1,000 in prize money, a CSD Student Membership until the end of their current course, and more. All entries must be received at CSD's offices on or before Tuesday, 1 May 2007. See http://www.csd.org.uk/awards/student_awards07.jsp for more information, or to download an application form.
