

CLIO Healthcare Awards open for entries

NEW YORK CITY, US: The CLIO Healthcare Awards are open for entries.

The CLIO Healthcare Awards is an extension of The CLIO Awards, one of the world's most recognised awards competitions for advertising, design and communications. Over the last several years, healthcare has become one of the most visible sectors of promotion, yet it is regulated differently and more stringently than traditional advertising. The CLIO Healthcare Awards is executed using the same rigorous standards as the CLIO Awards, but levels the playing field to qualify and judge this particular industry sector more fairly and appropriately.
