

The Immortal Awards announce Big Kahuna Films as Middle Eastern partner

Little Black Book has announced Big Kahuna Films as the Middle Eastern sponsor of The Immortal Awards.

The Immortal Awards will once again be judged by local, country-based juries that feed into regional rounds. Having local rounds gives every market and region a chance to shine on the global stage and ensures global creativity is judged fairly. Big Kahuna Films will sponsor the Middle East regional competition.

The Immortal Awards entry system will open at the end of March with entry into the competition free for all Little Black Book members.
