

Tribeca Public Relations promotes Juliette Verhoog to account director

Juliette Verhoog has been promoted to account director at Tribeca Public Relations. She has been with the agency for over three years and has provided strategic consultancy to some of Tribeca's largest accounts. She is known for her commitment to excellence in client service and her exemplary team management. She has also earned international recognition and awards for her clients.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>