

SABS appoints general manager of mining and minerals operation

Heinrich Williams has been appointed as the general manager of mining and minerals at the South African Bureau of Standards (SABS). Williams has extensive experience in general management and leadership roles, having worked for various blue chip establishments over the past 22 years.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>