IATA appoints regional head for Africa and Middle East

The International Air Transport Association (IATA) has appointed Kamil Al-Awadhi as its new regional head for Africa and Middle East. Al-Awadhi is replacing Muhammad Albakri who will be taking on a new position at IATA and will lead IATA's activities across the AME from its regional offices in Amman, Jordan.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com