

BON Hotels takes on Lake Heights Hotel, Entebbe

BON Hotels has taken on Lake Heights Hotel, Uganda - their second property in East Africa. The property will be rebranded Lake Heights Entebbe by BON Hotels on 1 October 2016.

Lake Heights Hotel

Entebbe International airport, currently undergoing a multi-million dollar expansion has high volumes of East African transit business from member states that Lake Heights Entebbe by BON Hotels, given its nearby location, is poised to take advantage of, providing a convenient option for the leisure market, international visitors on their way to Uganda's spectacular national parks, and the corporate traveller en route to Kampala.

The hotel is Entebbe's first boutique-style hotel and offers 33 individually designed rooms overlooking Lake Victoria, all with signature comfortable beds, generous workspaces, and high-speed complimentary Wi-Fi. Facilities include a wellness centre, spa and gymnasium, full in-house restaurant and bar overlooking the lake, a purpose-built conference venue, and swimming pool.

YES! Hospitality, East Africa Limited, who oversee operations for BON Hotels in East Africa, are excited about the expansion into Uganda - a country that is politically stable and poised for rapid economic growth.

Guy Stehlik, CEO of BON Hotels adds, "This acquisition further cements our presence in key African countries that we identified some time ago."
