

ALL THE WINNERS!

The full list of winners for the 39th Annual Loerie Awards, which concluded on 20 August 2017 at the Durban ICC, have been announced. Congratulations to all!

After a day of soaking up the Durban sun, creatives were ready for the second night of the 2017 Loeries Awards, this time hosted by DStv.

Fanmeeda Cassim-Surtee, director of sales and marketing at DStv Media Sales, introduced the night as a celebration of achievement of the talents of all the people in the room. She confirmed DStv's commitment to seeing the value of supporting the development of talent and recognising great creative work, because they obviously want creative to keep creating great commercials and find clever ways to integrate them beyond the traditional 30-second TV slot. She said to make great commercials with artistic value that grab viewers' attention and of course, that no one ever wants to skip.

Host for the night included John Vlismas and Lihle Linzy Msimang, with awards presented across the categories of:

- Effective creativity, sponsored by Woolworths;
- Integrated campaign, sponsored by ABInBev;
- Live events, activations and sponsorships;
- Media innovation;
- Music videos, sponsored by Channel O - with no golds awarded;
- PR and media communication;
- Radio communication, sponsored by Gagasi FM;
- Service design, sponsored by Accenture Interactive;
- Television, film and video communication, sponsored by DStv;
- Television, film and video crafts;
- The young creatives' award, which went to Thabang Manyelo of FCB Africa and Karmen Wessels of Native VML;
- Regional agency group of the year - BBDO MEA; and
- The SANBS public service award, sponsored by the South African National Blood Service, awarded to Y&R SA and &Films for Western Cape Government's 'Everybody Knows'.

This brought the total presented to 241 with 5 Grand Prix out of more than 3,000 entries for 800 brands, represented by 400 agencies from 18 countries across Africa and the Middle East.
