“ We believe we gave Africans and the world the very best nominations and songs in line with the 8,880 songs received under the year in review. ”

“The nominees list comprising 28 continental award categories and 10 regional award categories released for public voting on www.afrima.org is coming a few days after a rigorous long-week adjudication process. The remaining two categories - Legend award category will be announced at the awards, while Best Soundtrack in a movie/series/documentary film category was suspended due to low quality entries for this year's edition,” Head of Culture, African Union Commission on the Jury, Angela Martins, said.
